ATTENTION EMPLOYEES!

Metrolink is a regional rail system operated with funding from several transportation agencies, including the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (Metro). With more than 500 route miles and 56 stations in service, commuters in a five county region really can “Ride the Metrolink” to work.

The strategically located network of rail lines and stations brings commuters into greater Los Angeles County from San Bernardino, Riverside, Ventura, San Diego and Orange Counties. Instead of sitting in traffic on congested freeways and roads, you can “Ride the Metrolink” to work and save money and time.

Travelling by train is a great way to meet people, catch up on reading materials, and, more importantly, cut down on vehicle emissions from solo commutes to work. For train schedules and how to connect with other transit options, visit www.metrolinktrains.com.

Give Metrolink a try and get a free ride on the train. Contact your local Employee Transportation Coordinator for more information and ask about the Metrolink 4-trip pass.

In addition, you can “Ride the Metrolink” on weekends, holidays or during vacations. After all,

Clean Air is Everybody’s Business!!
